

ON A MISSION TO END SEXUAL VIOLENCE BY PROVIDING YOUTH WITH THE SKILLS TO STAND IN THEIR OWN POWER

WHAT WE DO

No Means No Worldwide (NMNW) trains instructors in high-risk environments to deliver the proven No Means No sexual and gender-based violence prevention curricula to youth ages 10-20. No Means No provides young people with the knowledge, skills, and self-efficacy needed to prevent sexual violence against themselves and others.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE PREVENTION TRAINING FOR YOUNG PEOPLE OF ALL GENDERS – ROOTED IN EMPOWERMENT SELF DEFENSE

SKILLS

to prevent myself and others from experiencing sexual assault

BELIEF

that I am worth defending and have the tools I need to defend myself and seek support

KNOWLEDGE

about common forms of sexual abuse and ways to recognize and prevent it

EVIDENCE-BASED

No Means No has been highlighted in various publications and reviews conducted by the WHO, CDC, USAID, UNICEF, Together for Girls, Big Win Philanthropy, and the Global Partnership to End Violence, as one of a few evidence-based, cost-effective, and replicable approaches to sexual violence prevention.

KEY OUTCOMES

Based on average findings of research conducted by Stanford and Johns Hopkins University from 2009-2015 in Kenya and Malawi including 2 randomized control trials with more than 20,000 young people.
